

Jean McSpadden, President and Chief Executive Officer

Joined Bright by Three in January 2012

As CEO, Jean is charged with all facets of leadership and management to support Bright by Three's vision and mission throughout all 64 counties in Colorado. Jean works directly with the board of directors to establish the strategic direction of the organization, as well as serves as chief liaison with community groups. Additionally, she ensures program quality as well as oversees the design, marketing, promotion, and delivery of products and services. Jean also oversees fundraising planning and implementation. Prior to joining Bright by Three in January 2012, Jean served as the Director of Education with the Vail Valley Foundation and prior as the Director of the US Olympic Committee responsible for securing major gifts and as the founding executive director of the Children's Literacy Center. Jean has a degree in speech and hearing science from the University of Washington.