Bright by Three Visitation Kits

Bright by Three's core program is a free three-year, research-based curriculum offered in both English and Spanish. Partners and trained volunteers visit with parents and caregivers to share materials that promote two-generation resilience and development. Topics include age-appropriate information related to: child development, health & safety, language & early literacy, nutrition & eating, behavior & positive discipline, developmental games & activities.

prenatal-12 months

Learn how and why reading, talking, playing, and singing with your child from birth will help prepare them for a lifetime of learning.

12-24 months

Tips and activities you can do with your toddler to support language skills, encourage learning behaviors, and promote brain development.

24-36 months

Positive parenting tips and age-appropriate activities to help you prepare your child for pre-school and beyond.

Bright by Text

Bright by Text delivers bite-sized and developmentally-targeted doses of our research-based curriculum right to a caregiver's cell phone. Each message contains a concept, resource, or activity, and includes a link to a landing page with more detail, links to related resources, and examples or short modeling videos to demonstrate the behavior or activity. The 3-5 weekly text messages are targeted to the age of the child from zero to five. Expert additions to our library of content are provided by partnerships with Vroom, PBS Learning Media, and others.
